About us

South East Consortium (SEC) is a central purchasing body. We're a not for profit organisation. We were specifically created to support the housing sector. But, any public sector organisation can benefit from our offer.

SEC was established in 2005 and retains its heritage by being a Membership organisation owned by 37 Housing Associations and Local Authorities. Our Members own over 380k properties between them – this gives us immense buying power.

We create intelligent frameworks for the sector to use. We can provide customers with solutions pre, during and post procurement process. SEC can deliver both framework and bespoke procurement solutions. We're able to assist our customers with technical work including specification preparation, cost benchmarking and contract writing.

In addition to technical work SEC also provide customers with a range of training, events and networking opportunities. We embrace collaboration and challenging the status quo. We're here to influence solutions for the sector's future.

Every time you contact us we'll deliver a service based on ease, options and value.

Accessing our frameworks

Any public sector organisation can use our services. When using our OJEU compliant frameworks you can automatically remove the high cost of running your own procurement project in-house.

We'll review, compile and release your tender documents when you use our frameworks. We'll also download tender returns and facilitate the process for you. You can benefit from our technical and procurement advice across all stages of the process, and we take the time to understand your needs and objectives to ensure we deliver the best service for you.
